

LOOSE COINS IN MAIL BOXES

The following instructions on collecting loose coins in rural delivery boxes has been received by Postmaster Shurtliff:

Washington, D. C., Jan. 25, 1910.
"The Postmaster—Sir: In view of the extent to which the practice of placing loose coins in boxes by rural patrons has grown and the delay in the delivery and collection of mail and the hardship imposed on rural carriers incident thereto, you are informed that, commencing February 15, rural letter carriers will not be required to collect loose coins from rural mail boxes.

"Patrons should enclose coins in an envelope, wrap them securely in a piece of paper, or deposit them in a coin-holding receptacle, so they can be easily and quickly taken from boxes, and carriers will be required to lift such coins, and, where accompanied by mail for dispatch, attach the requisite stamps. Respectfully,
"P. V. DE GRAV,
"Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General."

TEST CASE ON NEXT TUESDAY

Warrants of arrest were served on seventeen of the meat dealers of the city yesterday, and they were advised that it will be necessary for them to appear before the judge of the municipal court Tuesday morning to answer the charge against them of violating the license ordinance of Ogden. They were held on their own recognizance. It is quite possible, however, that, in order to test the constitutionality of the ordinance, which the butchers propose to do, an understanding may be had to call only one of the cases next Tuesday. If the law is determined to be constitutional, the other dealers will yield to the terms of the ordinance; if not, the other cases will be dismissed.

The butchers state that they are not spitefully resisting the law, but that they desire to test it for the purpose of learning whether they are legally bound to comply with its requirements. It is thought by them that the ordinance will be determined to be invalid in that it is discriminatory.

Any Woman Can Have Beautiful Hair

(From French Beauty Monthly).
"No woman should use water upon her hair oftener than once in two months," says M. Fournier, the noted French scientist. "Dry powder only should be used. Moisture causes the hair to lose its color and in time become thin.

Any woman desiring abundant, lustrous hair should use a dry shampoo every two or three days. Mix four ounces of powdered orris root with four ounces of peroxide. Sprinkle about a tablespoonful of this mixture upon the head; then brush the powder thoroughly through the hair. This will keep it light and fluffy and beautifully lustrous. You will soon see new hair starting to grow. This treatment is the only thing that I am sure will produce a growth of hair.

"While peroxide orris root is used as a dry shampoo by many women, still, no such results can be obtained as by using the formula I have given."

PROTECTION FOR REED HOTEL

The Reed Friday received from New York two chemical fire engines mounted on wheels, guaranteed to extinguish almost instantly any fire that has not been running more than 15 minutes. They are of the type used to equip fire departments in small towns and villages throughout the country, and have proven very successful in putting out fires wherever used. The Reed has put its electric wires in special conduits, reducing the liability of fire and, in order to further insure the safety of its guests, will soon place around the escape on the Washington street front.

The corps of skilled workmen, carpenters, plumbers, painters and paper-hangers, carpet layers, etc., who have been continuously engaged in the work of remodeling and refurnishing the interior of the Reed for the past year and a half, are still "on the job." They began on the sixth floor, where many large, well lighted sample rooms were made, giving more sample room space than any other hotel between Denver and San Francisco. Next the large dining room on the fifth floor was divided into guest rooms, many with bath being installed; all both rooms tiled throughout and fixtures with hot and cold water in every room.

A telephone exchange has been placed in the office, with phones in all the principal rooms.

More than 3,000 yards of Wilton velvet carpet has been laid. Dozens of hockers, upholstered in leather, have with box springs, hair covered and curled hair mattress on top, make sleeping a luxury.

The office floor is next to be improved, and when the remodeling is completed according to Proprietor Bigelow's plans, there will have been expended between $10,000 and $20,000, making the Reed a model of comfort, replete with every modern convenience.

CRISIS IN A LOCAL CHURCH

It was plainly apparent at the annual meeting of the Congregational church that the church confronts a crisis. If the situation were purely a family affair, there would be no need of public comment. It has passed beyond that point, and Mr. Elderkin feels an out and out statement is due the public. He will, therefore, devote his editorial to "The Crisis in the Local Congregational Church."

The sermon will be the first of a series upon the "Reconstruction of Belief." Miss Holberg and Mr. White will sing.

MONEY MADE RAISING HOGS

The highest price ever paid for a carload of 50 hogs in Ogden, and for that matter in Utah, was paid yesterday by the Ogden Packing & Provision company. The hogs were raised by Calvin Wheeler of Collinston, Utah, who is a raiser and breeder of thoroughbred Poland China and Duroc Jersey. They were in all respects the finest bunch of hogs that ever came to Ogden and they brought the owner $1,438, or very near $25 per head.

Mr. Wheeler has been engaged in the hog raising industry for a number of years, and has been supplying a great deal of the surrounding country with thoroughbred swine.

It shows what can be accomplished along these lines by having well bred hogs and then giving them the proper care and attention, and it would pay other hog raisers to study the industry along these lines. Mr. Wheeler states that the hogs netted him a handsome profit.

ADDITIONAL SOCIETY MRS. CRAIG ENTERTAINS.

The Sunday school board of the First Methodist Episcopal church met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Craig, 539 Twenty-third street, with an attendance of about thirty. After the usual business session election of officers for the new Sunday school year was held, the following being elected:
B. E. Newton, re-elected superintendent.

H. A. Slep, assistant superintendent.
G. A. Dickinson, secretary.
O. W. Browder, treasurer.

Mrs. Lillian McGregor, superintendent of the primary department.
Arthur Bushnell, librarian.
Miss Bertha Laird, organist.

Mrs. W. P. Long, superintendent cradle roll.
Mrs. O. E. Scott, superintendent home department.

Following the usual appointment of teachers by the superintendent, it was decided that the installation of teachers take place at the morning service the first Sunday in February.

Mrs. Craig and Mrs. Newton, assisted by Miss Patterson, served dainty refreshments, and after a social hour the meeting adjourned to meet February 15th with Mrs. Dickinson at her home, 2335 Madison avenue, each one feeling that the meeting had been very successful and enjoyable.

FAREWELL PARTY.

The Pythian Sisters met at the home of Mrs. William Glasman Tuesday afternoon, the affair being a "farewell" to Mrs. Robbins and Mrs. H. E. Cahill, two members of the Pythian Sisters' organization, who are soon to depart for Nevada, where they will make their future home.

Cards were played and prizes given. Mrs. William McGaw being awarded first prize and Mrs. Marks the consolation prize.

Mrs. Robbins and Mrs. Marks each received a handsome souvenir spoon as a token of pleasant remembrance from the Pythian Sisters.

DANCING PARTY.

A dancing party rivaling, in its element of keen enjoyment, any party ever given in the city, was the one held in the Royal Dancing Academy last Wednesday night under the auspices of the Machinists' Social club.

One hundred and fifty invited guests participated in the dancing, making an almost ideal crowd for a private dancing party, there being plenty of room to enjoy the delights of the terpsichorean art to its fullest measure.

On entering the hall the guests were pleased to find the bright glow of the arc light gone and in its place a soft amber glow. The hall was prettily decorated, amber, green, purple and white crepe paper being artistically used in the different designs. The punch booth, where Brown's delicious punch and Nabisco wafers were served by Mr. J. E. Brown, was decorated in the national colors.

A program of twenty-eight dances was carried out, a number of the latest feature dances being on the list. The music, which was furnished by an orchestra of six pieces, was perfect and was greatly appreciated. The large floor was in its best condition, leaving nothing to be desired.

JOHN M. WHITTON IS SHOWING IMPROVEMENT

John M. Whitton, who has been seriously ill ever since November, was taken to Salt Lake City this week for special treatment. Mrs. Whitton feels somewhat encouraged from the latest reports upon the condition of her husband.

Mr. Whitton made his home at Leadville, Colo., almost from the time of the founding of that city, until his removal to Ogden about four years ago.

He has been well known in Ogden since the boom days in 1889, when he invested in property here. He has many friends in the mountain states who will heartily wish to hear of his recovery at an early date.

"Jack" Whitton, only son of the sick man, is an officer on the U. S. S. South Dakota, and a recent letter from Washington, D. C., says that the first squadron of the Pacific fleet returning from Asiatic waters will reach San Francisco about February 15, when the young man, who made friends in Ogden several years ago, will doubtless have the opportunity of visiting his father.
